through basic training at Fort Hood, Texas, but they didn't meet face to face until a year later when they were based at West Germany, where they fast became friends. Esposito became Elvis's road manager and bodyguard beginning in 1960 and helped Elvis's aide Marty Lacker with the accounting. Esposito also played the guitar for Elvis's recording sessions from 1971 onward.

Sam Thompson

Many have seen him already as a brother in law of Elvis. Sam Thompson is the brother of Linda Thompson, who was certainly an important partner of the King of Rock'n'Roll after Priscilla. As a bodyguard and a member of the legendary Memphis Mafia, he spent the years 1972 to 1977 on the side of Elvis. He went on tour and even after the relationship between his sister and Elvis broke, he remained loyal to the King. 1973 the famous "Home Recordings" were produced which apply today to the absolute treasures in the work of Elvis.

Linda Thompson

The name speaks for itself. Linda Thompson was the woman by Elvis Presley's side after his divorce from Priscilla. She lived with the King for almost five years in Graceland and toured with him from one concert to another. Thompson was offered countless interviews and invitations to Elvis events, which she usually rejected because she didn't want any special benefits from her relationship with the most successful singer of all time. Linda even states that the time they spent together was very special. It is all the more sensational that she accepted Dennis Jale's and the TCB Band's invitation to accompany them at the great Mediterranean cruise as a spectacular surprise guest.

Dennis Jale

Music was the first love and companion for the 12 year old boy. Today Dennis Jale, the marked Austrian Rock voice, is the man with the inimitable acoustic colour and the force to delight his audience with any musical genre. What started softly in a bedsit reaps today hurricanes of applause on international stages. Is it a gig with his band "The Jam Gang" which he established 1998 together with his best friend Goran Mikulec, is it cooperations with other well known artists as Gary Lux or Michael Seida or the TCB Band – the charisma of Dennis Jale wins over.

DJ.Fontana

DJ.Fontana was Elvis' drummer for 14 years and played on over 460 RCA cuts with Elvis. He began his incredible career as a staff drummer in 1953 on the famous LOUISIANA HAYRIDE. While working the Hayride in 1954 DJ. met Elvis. They formed a common bond of friendship and admiration for each other's immense talents. DJ.Fontana, Scotty Moore and Bill Black formed Elvis' original band. Fontana was the man behind the beat for the first 14 years of Elvis' career.

cord for arranging the music on Elvis's hit, The Wonder of You.

Norbert Putnam

Norbert Putnam is considered to be one of the most genius studio bass players in Nashville, Tennessee. He performed with all major musicians of his time like Roy Orbison, Kris Kristofferson, Henry Mancini and Linda Ronstadt. Between 1965 and 1977 he also recorded with Elvis Presley not less than 80 songs, amongst them the famous tracks from the legendary Nashville Marathons. Putnam was also very successful as a producer. Joan Baez' probably most famous song "Night They Drove Old Dixie Down" was produced by him.

Jerry Schilling

His name not only sounds in the Elvis world to show business. Jerry Schilling was 23 years in deep friendship with the King of rock and roll. He knew Elvis like no other. This is also the reason why Jerry was one of the main managers of the Elvis legacy. Hardly a TV movie or a biography, where Jerry Schilling did not participated. Even today he is in a close friendship with Priscilla Presley Familie. But back to the first sentence: Jerry Schilling worked after Elvis's death as a tour manager for Billy Joel, was the personal manager of the Beach Boys, Jerry Lee Lewis and the Sweet Inspirations.

Joe Esposito

Joe Esposito was born in 1938. He first met "The King" during their army-time in 1958. They both went

The Artists

James Burton

James was born in Minden, Louisiana and moved to Shreveport with his family when he was ten years old. He has been playing the guitar since the age of thirteen and is self-taught. Elvis Presley approached James and asked him to play on the famous 68 Special show, but James was working with Frank Sinatra at the time and had to decline. Elvis contacted James again in 1969 to tell him that he was returning to live performances and asked James to form a band to support him. That was when The TCB Band was formed. James continued to work with Elvis until 1977 and beyond.

Paul Leim

For most musicians, there is a distinct separation between various segments of the entertainment industry. Few other musicians have so successfully bridged the gap between records, motion pictures, live performance and television. Paul has compiled an enviable "track record" in all four areas and has earned his distinction as one of the foremost drummers in the entertainment industry worldwide.

Glen D. Hardin

Glen D Hardin was born in Collingsworth County, Texas. His musical career then really took off in 1962 when he became a member of The Crickets, previously Buddy Holly's band. He joined the TCB Band in 1970 through to 1976 and as well as playing piano for Elvis, both in recording sessions and live performances, Glen D arranged music for him and was a key member of the group. Glen received a gold re-
